FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH!!!

Friday the 13th has long been considered a day filled with bad luck. For superstitious Gallaudetians entering or exiting College Hall this past Friday the sight of a long ladder reaching upward must have been a chilling experience. The workers from the W.B. Maske Company, who were replacing College Hall's gutters, found the situation very amusing and placed a sign on the ominous ladder reading, "You are now entering the Friday the 13th Twilight Zone."

A bit of research into this famous superstition revealed some interesting facts. It seems that both Friday and the number 13 are considered unlucky causing Friday the 13th to be doubly hexed. The following bits of superstitious wisdom are taken from E. and M.A. Radford's Encyclopedia of Superstitions:

- If you dream on Friday night and tell the dream on the following day, it will come true.
- Rain on Friday, fine on Sunday
- It is unlucky to go courting on a Friday.
- Good Friday is the best day to wean children.

Never walk under a ladder on Kendall Green on Friday the 13th!

NATIONAL ACADEMY BOOKS

The National Academy has published Living with Deaf-Blindness: Nine Profiles, a 175 page collection of stories presenting the experiences and feelings of a diverse group of deaf-blind adults. The book, written by Carol Yoken from interviews lasting as long as 40 hours, quotes individuals extensively. It is intended as introductory material for professionals in rehabilitation, education and related fields and is available through Curriculum Development and Research, Division of Public ### Services.

A forthcoming publication is the booklet, Deaf Patients: Special Needs, Special Responses, by Loraine DiPietro, a companion to the videotape of the same name produced last fall for training nurses in serving deaf patients.

EMERGENCY BUILDING TEMPERATURE RESTRICTIONS

The President of the United States has enacted into law mandatory restrictions on indoor temperature levels as a national conservation measure. These temperature levels are a maximum of 65 degrees in winter and a minimum of 78 degrees in the cooling season. The designated term of this emergency is July 16, through April 16.

Gallaudet College will comply with this law within the limits of our equipment and exemptions. Generally, exemptions at Gallaudet will be occupied dormitories, Health Service, KDES, any nursery school or day care area and certain other limited areas housing computers and/or sensitive equipment.

Physical Plant will be converting the non-exempt areas to comply with these temperatures as promptly as possible. Those persons having window a/c units are cordially asked to cooperate and keep their areas much warmer than normal during the remainder of the summer. There are stiff penalties ranging up to $10,000 per occupancy for willful disregard of this law.

Watch this publication, bulletins and Gallaudet T.V. for further information as it develops.

Your cooperation is essential and appreciated.

--Dr. Edward C. Merrill, Jr., Tom Harrington, and recent graduate Lynn Ballard were quoted in a Parade magazine article on closed captioning July 8th. The article reached over 50 million readers in the popular Sunday newspaper magazine.

--Richard White, Don Pettingill, Roslyn Rosen, and Mike Deninger taught short courses prior to the International Association of Parents of the Deaf 6th Biennial Convention at the Colorado School for the Deaf and the Blind, Colorado Springs, Colorado, June 29-July 1.

THE FRENCH RETURN

Gallaudet College is hosting for the second successive summer an entourage of French visitors. Thirty seven adults and five children are participating in a four-week workshop sponsored by the International Center on Deafness. One-third of the group members are deaf; the remainder are deafness professionals and parents of deaf children.

ON THE GREEN is published each week by the Office of Alumni and Public Relations for the faculty and staff of Gallaudet College.
